

The first and last letters of the Bible point to Jesus

- ◆ The first two letters of the Bible spell בר (in בראשית in Gen 1:1). בר means "son" (see Psa 2:12)
- ◆ The first letter of the Bible is ב.
- ◆ The last letter of the Bible is N – in Greek.

There are three alternative endings for Rev 22:21 –

(a) "The grace of the Lord Jesus be with the saints." μετα αγιον (ΜΕΤΑ ΑΓΙΟΝ)

(b) "... be with all." μετα παντων (ΜΕΤΑ ΠΑΝΤΩΝ)

(c) "... be with all, Amen." μετα παντων, Αμην (ΜΕΤΑ ΠΑΝΤΩΝ ΑΜΗΝ)

In every case the last letter is N.

There is no confusion in relating this to the Hebrew letter נ.

In the order of the alphabets:

Hebrew:	Kaf	Lamed	Mem	Nun
Greek:	Kappa	Lamda	Me	Nee
Numeric values (in both alphabets):	20	30	40	50

So we may say the first and last letters of the Bible spell:

בן = son (see Psa 2:7)

Jesus is the Son of God (Luke 1:35)

Jesus is the Son of man (Matt 9:6)
